M.A. SOCIOLOGY PROGRAMME

OBJECTIVES AND IMPORTANCE

Sociology is the most contemporary and versatile of the Social Sciences. It trains students to grasp social and diversified structures, understand social processes map the dynamics of social change, decipher social interactions and make sense of individual and collective experiences in their social, historical and cultural context. Sociology is at once critical and constructive; conceptual and applied; theoretical and empirical. It is a science that cohabits comfortably with literary flair, speculative sensibility, historical imagination and empirical rigor. It is incessantly reflexive about its methods, demanding about its research techniques and standards of evidence. Sociology is ever so subtle about the conceptual distinctions it draws and zealous about its disciplinary boundaries and identity. At the same time, sociology is the most open and interdisciplinary of social sciences. The Pursuit of sociology is a systematic effort at recovering, mapping and making sense of our kaleidoscopic collective self under the sign of modernity. It is both historical and comparative. Sociology as an academic discipline is committed to the ideal of generating public knowledge and fostering public reason. It embodies best of enlightenment virtues: scientific reason, tolerance of diversity, humanistic empathy and celebration of democratic ideals. It is the science of our times. Sociology in India is more than hundred years old with rich, entrenched, ongoing and evolving scholarly legacies. Department of Sociology of University of Lucknow has been a premier centre of sociological learning and research in India for the last 100 years. The scholarly and institutional foundations of the discipline were laid by eminent sociologist late Prof Radha Kamal Mukherjee and Prof. D.P. Mukherjee, The department believed and conceived as interdisciplinary and became a school of thought which has been accepted as Lucknow School of Sociology It was a response to a widely recognized need for a discipline that addressed the broad concerns of a heterogeneous society where aspects of social life were rapidly changing yet traditional institutions still held sway. The Sociology Department at Lucknow recognized the importance of disseminating the findings of sociological research and train the next generation of sociologists and decided to introduce undergraduate courses in sociology quite early on. Over the decades the Post Graduate department thrived and Under Graduate departments grew in number under illustrious sociologists like Prof Radha Kamal Mukherjee and Prof. D.P. Mukherjee along with Prof. A.K. Sharan of whom took keen interest in curriculum design. At the moment sociology is offered both as U. G & P.G. in various colleges (Govt.&Added) working under Lucknow University. The Sociology syllabus of the Department has always embodied the department's commitment to rigorous imparting of disciplinary fundamentals, comparative intent and a general preference to concern oneself with deeper and enduring attributes of the social than over narrow and shallow concerns of topical interest. Interdisciplinary has always been an article of faith for sociology under the auspice of Lucknow University and it constantly endeavored to introduce sub- disciplines and special areas of study in response to dynamic intellectual climate, shifting social concerns and novel professional demands. This spirit continues to inform the undergraduate and postgraduate syllabus even today and our students find fulfilling careers in a broad range of professions that require sensitivity to social issues, independent thinking and analytical ability. You may find how this legacy is lived and vision is actualized in the following pages that elucidate the learning out- come framework for the Under- Graduate and Post- Graduate, Ph.D. curriculum for Sociology at University of Lucknow.

Structure and Disciplinary Contents of M. A. Sociology:

All the courses are designed to impart disciplinary fundamentals of sociology through a curated reading list that draws amply from their diverse tradition of sociological writing – classical as well as contemporary. These courses also feature vibrant illustrative material in the form of case studies meant to make the concepts and theories vivid, the learning process engaging and illustrate the discipline in action in terms of empirical investigations. The courses are designed to draw micro-itineraries across the syllabus to form complex inter- connections.

Program Learning Out comes:

The Post graduate program in sociology is premised on an axiom that a graduate is not mere product of a system. On the contrary, the graduate attributes are the most concrete manifestation of the spirit the entire program, its operationalization through institutions and collective and concerted efforts of all the stakeholders. Every other feature of programme is fused into this. Hence graduate attributes, qualification descriptors and programme learning outcomes may not be described separately since they are innately interconnected.

Teaching Learning Process:

Multiple pedagogic techniques are used in imparting the knowledge both with in and out side the classrooms. Listed below are some such techniques:

- Lectures
- Tutorials

- Power-point presentations

- Project work

- Documentary Films on relevant topics

- Debates, Discussions, Quiz

- Talks/workshops

- Interaction with experts

- Outstation fieldtrips.....Surveys designs

- Internships

Assessment Methods:

Besides the formal system of University exams held at the end of each semesters well as mid- semester and class tests that are held regularly, the students are also assessed on the basis of the following:

□written

assignments □

Projects Reports

☐Presentations

☐Participation in class discussions

☐Ability to think critically and creatively to solve the problems ☐Application of classroom concepts
during fieldwork

Reflexive Thinking

☐Engagement with peers

☐Participation in extra and co-curricular activities ☐Critical assessment of Articles /Books etc.

Career prospects for Sociology Post Graduates:

Students with a P.G. degree in Sociology have contributed immensely to the following fields:

☐Academics

☐Bureaucracy

☐NGOs and Developmental Sectors ☐Designing and conducting surveys

☐Human Resource Development

☐Research in contemporary issues of Gender, Development, Health, Urban Studies etc.

Internship/Fieldwork (2 CREDITS/50 MARKS)

Objectives:

Research skills/ Practical skills are very important for sociological analysis. Through this course, in addition to the theoretical input, an opportunity is given to the students to acquire research skills by undertaking a research project as a part of the academic activity. This course will help to:-

1. Develop the ability to conceptualize, formulate and conduct research projects.
2. Learn to assess the research studies and findings.
3. Develop the skills for library work and documentation for research.
4. Develop favorable attitudes for the integration of research and theory.

Guide line for Research Project/Fieldwork/Internship:

1. A Student shall select the research topic in the Semester III itself in consultation with the faculty member assigned as Supervisor or Guide for Research Project Course and report the same to the Head of the Department/College Principal in writing.
2. Topic of such research project shall be relevant to sociology course on the whole.
3. The topic of such research projects shall be finalized only after the Department / College approves the same.
4. The tools of data collection should be finalized and data collection shall be completed by the mid of the Semester III.
5. The student has to submit two bound copies of Research Dissertation to the Head of the Department/College Principal on or before the last working day of the Semester III in a prescribed format.

DISSERTATION/MASTER THESIS (SOCMT-401)

Objectives:

Research skills are very important for sociological analysis. Through this course, in addition to the theoretical input, an opportunity is given to the students to acquire research skills by undertaking a research project as a part of the academic activity. This project course

Will help to:-

1. Develop the ability to conceptualize, formulate and conduct research projects.
2. Learn to assess the research studies and findings.
3. Develop the skills for library work and documentation for research.
4. Develop favorable attitudes for the integration of research and theory.
5. Develop logical thinking and critical analysis.

Guide line for Research Project:

6. A Student shall select the research topic in the Semester IV itself in consultation with the faculty member assigned as Supervisor Guide for Research Project Course and report the same to the Head of the Department/College Principal in writing.
7. Topic of such research project shall be relevant to sociology course on the whole.
8. The topic of such research projects shall be finalized only after the Department / College approves the same.
9. The tools of data collection should be finalized and data collection shall be completed by the mid of the Semester IV.
10. The student has to submit two bound copies of Research Dissertation to the Head of the Department/College Principal on or before the last working day of the Semester IV in a prescribed format.

11. Each student shall be compulsorily supervised in the Research Project by a faculty member. The Supervisor will guide the student in methodology and the course of the study.
12. The allotment of the students to a faculty for supervision shall be done by the Department Council.
13. Periodic individual conference, related to Research Project of each student, shall be conducted by the supervisor.
14. Each student shall be required to take part in Class Room Presentations in the context of Research Project. Assignment regarding such presentations (colloquium) shall be related to research methodology and tools of research being developed by the student.
15. The student's performance in such assignments is considered in assigning the Internal Assessment marks allocated for Research Project.
16. The type of research project (qualitative, quantitative or combined) should be based on the consensual decision of both the student and the supervisor.
17. The sample size for quantitative research shall not be less than 50 respondents; and minimum of 10 cases if it is qualitative.
18. Not less than 5 class hours per week or 60 hours in 4th semester shall be spent by the student for such Research Project.
19. A total of 8 Credits shall be allocated to the Research Project Course.
20. The project course will be evaluated on the basis of the dissertation and the internal assessment. (Dissertation & Fieldwork 100 + 100 (Viva-Voce)=200 or 4+4=8 CREDITS
